WEB DEVELOPER

As a student web developer, I have a strong foundation in front-end web development, with experience in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I am currently expanding my skills in backend web development, learning languages like Python and frameworks like Django. Additionally, I am exploring Android app development using Flutter. I am passionate about creating user-friendly and visually appealing websites and apps. I am a quick learner, detail-oriented, and always eager to take on new challenges. Looking forward to applying my skills and contributing to exciting projects in the field of web and app development.
